TRIED TO KILL HIS WIFE

JOE RUTHERFORD STRUCK HER WITH AN AXE.

The Man Had Not Been Caught Up To Midnight—Woman Still Alive.

Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock Joe Rutherford, a negro, tried to kill his wife by striking her over the head with an axe, and then escaped.

The woman crawled to the front of the house on North King street, and called for help. Leatha Lindsey, who lives next door, came to her assistance and found she was bleeding profusely. Medical aid was summoned and the woman made an extraordinary recovery. She was alive last night but it is thought she cannot recover. The Rutherford case has a most unusual history. The woman, Leatha Lindsey, who lives next door to them, says they have no difficulty between the couple.

The officers have been searching for Rutherford but had not caught him up to the time the Herald went to press.

FOR THEFT FROM PERSON

FRED LYNN WAS ARRESTED YESTERDAY IN COMMERCIAL.

Accused of Robbing a Companion Who Was Asleep On the Train.

Yesterday Constable George Turner, of Commerce, brought to the jail a young man named Fred Lynn, in charge of theft from the person. Lynn became acquainted with a man in Wichita Falls on Wednesday, and offered to get him a good job in Commerce. Both men came to Fort Worth and stayed over in the Cotton Club for a night.

When the train reached Commerce, Constable Turner got on leaving his partner asleep. The constable, expecting something wrong, awoke the man and asked him if he had any money. A search of his pockets disclosed the fact that he had lost a watch and money in a watch and money in a watch.

The constable wired his agent at Commerce who put the case in the hands of Constable Thurman, who picked him up before the train left. Lynn was arrested and found he had a ticket for Dallas. Yesterday morning Lynn had an exorbitant trial in two justice courts and was bound over to jail of $1,000, when he failed to give bond and was remanded to jail. The watch and most of the money was recovered by the constable.

THE HUNT COUNTY FAIR

KING OPERA HOUSE CROWDED TO STANDING ROOM ONLY.

All the Fun and Frolic of a Fall Exposition Were Given to Perfection.

The "County Fair" presented at the King opera house by home talent under the auspices of the Review club last night was a big success in every way. The play was under the direction of Miss Mattie Russell and to her is due a big portion of the credit for its success, and the success of the club and those taking part in the performance were constant and earnest in their efforts for its success. The scene at the time of the curtain was the exhibition hall of the county fair, the first number was a song by little Misses Joe Hunkley and Mary Campbell with a big chorus of little boys and girls. After the chorus the fair opened with the taking on the lake, the old farmer and wife, the country belle and groom, the widow hunting a husband, and widow with six children, the German family of about twenty and all the other characters that make fun at the fair. The parts were all well played and a laugh was furnished the audience which packed the entire house, up and down stairs. The program had been drilled to as near perfection as amateurs can attain and there was not a hitch in any of them. There were a number by the little folks and three by the grown folks. Henry Harris and his drummer girls, the Seckow boys and girls with Moses Payne and Freeman as soloists and the Gibson chorus eight couples in evening dress were recalled a number of times. Mr. Denton captured the audience with his solo and responded to encores.

The Review club is well pleased with the results of the Fair, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the book fund of the Public Library. Miss Russell worked almost day and night rehearsing the cast, drilling the choruses and doing the many other things which made last night's performance good, and her work is appreciated by all who took part in the show.

SECOND ATTEMPT TO ROB BANK

Watchman Surprises Burglars and Opens Fire on Them.

Richmond, Mo., Dec. 1.—The second attempt within a week to rob the First National bank was made early today. Shortly after midnight the watchman Richard Taylor, discovered two men opening the outer door. As they were trying to get to the inner door, the watchman fired and the men ran. He followed them to the street and fired several shots but they escaped. Last Saturday morning the bank was entered and the vault blown open, but the burglars failed to secure any booty as the inner door held secure.

SETTLE EXPRESS STRIKE

FINAL ADJUSTMENT OF DIFFERENCE EFFECTED.

Fears of a Christmas Tieup Are Disputed By the Agreement.

New York, Dec. 1.—Final settlement of the strike among express companies, which held up the express business of the big transcontinental companies in this city for several weeks recently, was effected early today when the drivers and helpers voted to accept the terms offered by their employers. The men returned to work, and the time was the understanding that the adjustment as to wages and hours would be reached by Dec. 1. The arrangement now reached goes into effect today.

An advance of from 5 to 6 per cent was agreed to by the majority of the companies. It was understood that there will be further negotiations with the Adams Express company officials. The men of that company not being entirely satisfied with the terms offered, but accepting the new settlement tentatively. The eleven-hour day will rule for all men and work on Sundays and holidays will not be required. The new agreement establishes the open shop.

The dragging of the negotiations through the past several days has caused fears of a possible Christmas tieup of express matter, but these have been dispelled by the agreement.

NEW JERSEY WINS HONOR

GOV. WILSON WILL BE HOST TO GOVERNORS NEXT YEAR.

Gov. Hadley Spoke On Employers Liability and Workmen's Compensation.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 1.—At the session this morning general discussion of Governor Hadley's address of yesterday was taken up. He spoke on "Employers Liability and Workmen's Compensation," a subject of great interest to the governors, and on which several of them wanted to be enlightened as well as express their views. Various ideas were given, but each was to the effect that our laws on these subjects were inadequate and the states would carefully revise them. Apportioning death rates on railroads and in mines of this country were compared with the lower rate in European countries in discussing the vast danger in laps of foreign nations and ours regarding the liability of employers.

Though not a member of the conference, one of the increasing interest at this meeting is Senator Bradley of Boston, who was accredited the honor of addressing the body, even though it was pressed for time.

Naturally the governors liked his speech advocating more power for the chief executives and cutting of legislatures. He bears a remarkable likeness to Speaker Cannon and came from Boston on his own initiative to present a device which he thinks will materially aid the states and crystallize the movement for a yearly conference of governors that will bring benefits to the people.

New Jersey had a great advantage over the other states in trying to bring for the next meeting of the governors. It is the only state represented by a governor and a governor-elect and the place they ask the conference to convene is remote from those social activities the visitors have partaken of here. The theory is advanced that more real work will be done at Spring Lake, N. J., than would be done at any state capital where the residents naturally would want to be more comfortable. A gala luncheon at a distinguished assembly. Other states wanted the next conference, but two taking for New Jersey and the added inducement of Spring Lake over a capital and Woodbury which was made the next host.
